Summit Meeting In Cierna

Russians Are Angry; Prague Is Hopeful

PRAGUE (AP) — Leaders of the Czechoslovak and Soviet Communist parties met today for historic talks near the Soviet border on Russian demands that Czechoslovakia check its independent course down the Communist road.

The official news agency CTK said the talks opened in a dilapidated movie theater in Cierna, a Czechoslovak railroad junction not far from the Soviet border.

A Czechoslovak traveler returning from the Soviet border reported that strong Soviet forces were maneuvering there with tanks and other heavy equipment. Soviet helicopters were seen patrolling along the border near Cierna.

RUSSIAN TROOPS

Russian troops, though officially said to be small in number, were reported to be still near Presov, a Czechoslovak rail junction about 15 miles north of the meeting site.

Other units, which had stayed on in Czechoslovakia after last month's Warsaw Pact maneuvers, were officially announced as having scheduled their departure tonight from the area of Libava in Moravia.

About 40 Czechoslovak leaders, including party leader Alexander Dubcek and 11 members of the party presidium, arrived Sunday night by plane at Koscice, about 45 miles from the Soviet border. They continued by sleeper train to Cierna.

SOVIET DELEGATION

Soviet party leader Leonid I. Brezhnev led the 11-member Soviet Politburo that traveled to Cierna by train. There were two other Russians in the group. Among presidium members was Premier Alexei N. Kosygin, who is considered to favor a more moderate approach to the Czechoslovak leaders.

Some unconfirmed reports said the meeting opened on a tense note with the Soviet delegates showing anger about the presence of photographers in the area.

Secrecy on the meeting had been one of the Soviet demands coupled with agreement to have the talks held on Czechoslovak territory.

A strong police cordon was thrown around the area where the Soviet train was parked. Expressed Soviet fears that the reformist movement may lead Czechoslovakia out of the Warsaw Pact alliance are most prominent on the agenda of the meeting.

CZECH ASSURANCES

Repeated Czechoslovak assurances that Prague's ties with Moscow are inviolable so far have failed to impress Soviet leaders.

Dispute Expected On Pope's Pill Ban

Issue Not Closed For All Time

Pontiff Urges Further Research

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI today banned the contraceptive pill and all other mechanical and chemical means of birth control for the world's half a billion Roman Catholics. He also indicated that the rhythm method should not be employed as a regular practice.

"Every matrimonial act must remain open to the transmission of life," the Pope declared in a key sentence of his long-delayed encyclical letter on one of the most controversial issues facing the church today.

"To destroy even only partially the significance (of intercourse) and its end is contradictory to the plan of God and to his will," the pontiff declared.

This appeared to rule out the possibility of any future acceptance by Pope Paul of contraception for any reason and seemed to imply disapproval of the constant use of the rhythm method of periodic abstinence, the only method of birth control previously sanctioned by the church.

URGES RESEARCH

In a passage directed to men of science, the Pope voiced encouragement for continued research in the area of birth regulation. But again he appeared to rule out any other solution than ways of improving the rhythm method.

"It is particularly desirable," the Pope said, "that according to the wish already expressed by Pope Pius XII, medical science succeed in providing a sufficiently secure basis for a regulation of birth, founded on the observance of natural rhythms."

"In this way, scientists and especially Catholic scientists will contribute to demonstrate in actual fact that as the church teaches, 'a true contradiction cannot exist between the divine laws pertaining to the transmission of life and those pertaining to the fostering of authentic conjugal love.'"

The Vatican's leading moral theologian, Msgr. Ferdinando Lambruschini, presented the encyclical at a news conference and said in effect that despite (See page 11, column 1)

Republican Rank, File Like Nixon

Holds 5-2 Edge In Gallup Poll

PRINCETON, N.J. (AP) — The Republican rank and file clearly favors Richard M. Nixon over New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller for the GOP presidential nomination, the Gallup Poll reported Sunday.

Nixon held a 5-2 edge over Rockefeller, with California Gov. Ronald Reagan running a poor third, in the nationwide sampling of Republican voters taken last week.

The former vice president was preferred by 60 per cent of the Republicans polled. Rockefeller was the favorite of 23 per cent, and Reagan was the first choice of 7 per cent.

George Gallup announced this would be the last survey of its kind before the Republican convention at Miami Beach next week.

He said that since 1936, the candidate favored in his final preconvention sample has gone on to win the Republican nomination with one exception.

That was in 1964 when William Scranton, then governor of Pennsylvania, was the 2-1 choice over Barry Goldwater in a head-to-head matchup.

The results of Gallup's last preconvention GOP survey are markedly similar to the last time regular Republicans were polled in March. Then, Nixon had 60 per cent, Rockefeller 25 and Reagan 6.

Model Cities Touch Off Power Struggle

By JACK R. MILLER

WASHINGTON (AP) — Early planning in the Model Cities program has been marked by widespread disputes—and some outright power struggles—between city officials and residents of neighborhoods involved, the program director acknowledges.

But H. Ralph Taylor, assistant secretary of the Department of Housing and Urban Development, says in most cases it's been a healthy conflict.

"There are tensions," Taylor said in an interview. "But remember, you're starting from a background of suspicion on both sides. This has been a very healthy thing."

Taylor said that although some of the disputes have turned into outright struggles for control of the programs, only in two of the 75 cities selected so far—Newark, N.J., and Oakland, Calif.—have city hall and the neighborhood failed to reach an acceptable agreement on how to divide authority.

The government withholds planning funds until it is satisfied with the arrangement.

The Model Cities program, begun nine months ago with selection of 63 cities, is attempting to make a single poor neighborhood in each city an attractive place to live.

While local governments have ultimate responsibility for the program, residents of the chosen neighborhoods must be given

He Feels Left Out; Shoots Four

Dispute Over Sandlot Game

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — A man was arrested Sunday night after police said he wounded four persons with a shotgun because he had been left out when two sandlot softball teams were picked.

Officers said that when Robert Bailey, 26, of Indianapolis, was not chosen for the game at Belmont Park on the city's North Side, he reportedly said "then you'll never play" and left the park.

Witnesses told police Bailey returned and drove his car into the center of the softball diamond. The witnesses said the 12-gauge shotgun in Bailey's hand discharged as he was stepping from the car.

The four persons wounded were 60 feet from Bailey and behind a backstop screen. One, James R. Edwards, 22, was injured critically.

Bailey was arrested on a preliminary charge of assault and battery with intent to murder.

Suspects Quizzed In 6 Slayings

PETOSKEY (AP) — Emmet County sheriff's officers said they were continuing to question today of persons being questioned in connection with the slaying of a family of six, whose bodies were found last week at their Lake Michigan cottage in Good Hart.

The bullet-riddled bodies of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Robison and their four children were found by a caretaker. Authorities said they had been dead about a month.

The Robisons were vacationing from their Lathrup Village home in suburban Detroit. Sheriff's officers said they had no new clues in the case, reporting they had searched Lake Michigan near the cottage with magnets in an effort to uncover the murder weapon.

Autopsies revealed the victims had been shot with .25 caliber bullets, although some .22 caliber shell casings were found in the summer home.

en "maximum" participation. Taylor said struggles for control have occurred in some cities where either the mayors or the neighborhoods wanted to run the whole show.

Asked whether the Black Power movement has contributed to such struggles, he said "yes, it has."

Officials in some cities have given complete authority to the neighborhoods, Taylor said. But he said that approach isn't likely to succeed.

Third Time At Bat For River Valley School

Tuesday the voters in the River Valley school district have another chance to plug the leak in their educational canoe.

Twice in the past few months they have rejected special millage for the district.

If Tuesday repeats a No reply to the school board, then some belt tightening for the students and indirectly, their parents, appears inevitable for the upcoming school term.

There are two ballots to be voted upon.

The most important one is a request to levy an additional 11.8 mills annually for two years.

This would extend the 8.45 emergency measure adopted two years ago and which expired with the district's June 30th financial year-end.

The other 3.35 of the 11.8 total represents the River Valley board's estimate of what it will cost to keep up with the Joneses, in manner of speaking. It is the forecast, basically, for what it takes today to meet the inflation which affects all public schools.

The other ballot is a proposal to levy another two mills for one year. This would permit the hiring of ten teachers for curriculum improvements.

Except as the figures will vary and the names of the districts change, this money problem in River Valley finds a repetition in every school zone in which this newspaper circulates.

So, also has the number of elections been about the same to convince the public that the financial difficulty is a backstop problem which only the local residents can meet.

Equally in parallel is that all of those districts have been getting along on the emergency appropriation system which these millage elections represent.

The difference at River Valley, if any there be, is one of degree. The district up until the present time has been somewhat luckier than others in not being kicked quite so hard by teacher salary demands and other cost increases.

Luck, unfortunately, has a way of running out for all of us, and River Valley is now in the same financial boat with other local governmental units.

We sense the tax proposition may have been the victim in the earlier elections of some circumstances which befogged a judgment on the merits of the millage.

The controversy over the high school principal and the school board's refusal to state openly and clearly why it acted as it did unquestionably lost some friends for the proposal.

Some Letters To Ye Ed on the proposal indicate doubt as to the board's presentation of the millage proposal. These Letters reflect a suspicion that the money crisis is not all that it has been made to appear.

The best answer to those and other objections to the millage is the major proposal itself.

(The 11.8 includes the 8.45 which from 1966 to the term just expiring represented one-quarter of the district's total revenue from all sources. The other sources are the regular tax allotted from the 15-mill county-wide allocation plan, state aid, and some minor service fees.

If it was necessary to adopt the 8.45 in 1966 to keep the district afloat, it should be readily apparent that its continuation in the 11.8 package is even more necessary today.

The two-mill proposition would be nice to have, but River Valley will get along if it is turned down.

It will though, be tossing matches around an ammunition dump if the 11.8 fails.

Teddy Says No Dice
At This Time

Senator Edward M. Kennedy announced Friday he is another member of the club which has no desire to be President starting next January.

President Johnson publicly took himself out of the running after Eugene McCarthy staged an upset in the New Hampshire primary.

Even earlier, Governor Romney read the smoke signals from New Hampshire before the voters went to the polls.

Governor Rockefeller performed a different war dance. First he declared himself not interested and that he could best serve the public by remaining on the job at Albany. A few weeks ago the national polls show pretty clearly that Nixon may have the delegates to the G.O.P. convention but Rockie has the public's affection, and he is now staging a blitzkrieg to bomb Nixon out of the Miami convention hall next week.

Last week Mayor Richard J. Daley took time out from negotiating a deal with the striking Electrical Workers Local to wire the Amphitheatre for the Democratic convention to say the convention should draft Senator Kennedy for Vice President.

He would, said Richard J., be the ideal running mate for Hubert Humphrey.

Hubert did not say it outwardly and there is some doubt about his affection for the Kennedy family, but if Mayor Daley felt impelled to speak, one can assume the Democratic chieftains suggested that Humphrey consider the proposition.

After all, there are few political leaders who can speak with the authority of a Mayor Daley and the public opinion polls make it plain that Teddy could carry the day for the donkey as no other candidate could.

There are too many family problems arising from the assassination of Robert Kennedy, replied Teddy, to permit him to do battle this year.

He will, however, he continued, offer some suggestions to the Democratic convention handlers on how best to guide the destiny of their party.

Teddy is not giving the White House the back of his hand.

He is simply not interested in pulling any chestnuts out of the fire for Humphrey and the Johnson Administration, neither of which has been acceptable to the Kennedy entourage.

Better to wait until the November dust has settled and the battleground in '72 or '76 (Teddy is just 36) is clearer in view. By either one of those dates, Teddy could be a dynamo in his own right rather than an auxiliary generator for someone else this year.

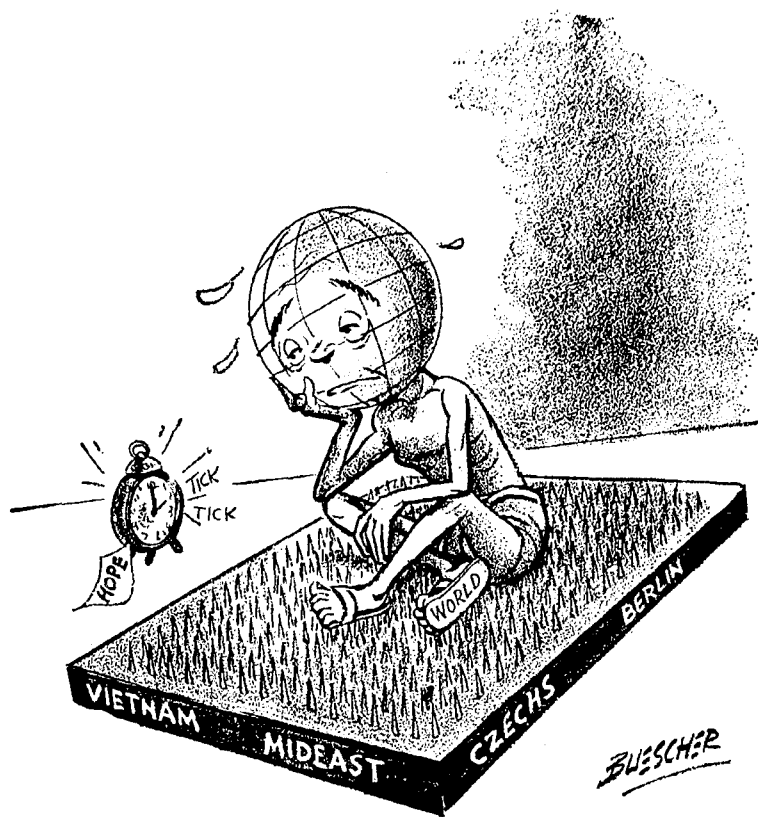

The pros may feel Teddy is not standing to as a loyal party man should, but his reply is incisive to a cynical effort to make hay from a family tragedy.

THE

Legacies Of Hate

"To my sister, one dollar and my curse."
"To my son-in-law, a good stout rope with which to hang himself."

"To my partner, my portrait of a viper."
These hateful legacies are examples of a peculiar phenomenon in the field of wills. The maker of a will knows that his words will probably not come to light until after his death — when he is safe from retribution. Under this protection, as one expert put it, "Human nature removes its mask."

GENERALLY, YES
Are such legacies valid? In making a will, is there a "right to be mean?"

Generally speaking, the answer is yes. The law is reluctant to condemn the motives of someone who is not present to make explanations. No court can be sure what real grievances might have lain hidden in his heart.

Besides, the very idea of a will is to give the maker the right to pick and choose among the possible objects of his bounty, favoring one, rejecting another.

On the other hand, if a will is sufficiently unnatural, that may be some indication that the person who made it was either under undue influence or mentally incompetent.

CANT BREAK LAW

For instance: a spinster's will left all her money to a niece, cutting off the brother she had long loved dearly. This was held sufficiently strange, along with other circumstances, to justify the conclusion that the woman had been subjected to undue influence by the niece.

Furthermore, unnatural provisions won't be upheld if they are contrary to state laws or in conflict with public policy. Thus, a court would not approve instructions to "Burn all my money" or "Hire a gunman to do away with my boss."

Fortunately, the average will does not reflect either venom or spite. Most people find something better to do with their last words than to leave a legacy of hate. Not many individuals care to be remembered that way.

DR. COLEMAN

... And Speaking
Of Your Health

If a tuberculin test is positive does it mean that the person has tuberculosis?

This is a most important problem that deserves to be free of the confusion and fear associated with it. When mothers are told their children need a tuberculin test it strikes terror in their hearts because the word itself is frightening. There is no foundation for this.

The tuberculin test is a skin test, or patch Dr. Coleman test, done with a weakened portion of the tubercle bacillus, the germ that can cause active tuberculosis. When a positive skin test is "read" by the doctor, it only means that at some time during his life, the person had been infected either mildly or severely by tuberculosis. A positive test does not mean that active tuberculosis exists at the time of the test.

What then is the purpose of this test, if it is not to establish the presence of the disease? It means that some of the shadows seen by X-ray can more readily be explained even in the absence of active tuberculosis.

A positive test alerts doctors and shows the need to have all members of a family X-rayed at regular yearly intervals, to be sure that no active infection is present.

The actual diagnosis of tuberculosis is made by the study of the sputum, and by clinical and X-ray examination of the chest. An important thought must be stated. It is a misconception that tuberculosis is a disease that no longer exists. This is wrong. The control and cure is better today than it was 30 years ago, but chronic coughs, unusual fatigue and loss of weight are symptoms that plead to be recognized rather than neglected.

What is Raynaud's Disease? Is it a dangerous condition?

The question of danger frequently comes up when a specific disease is mentioned.

All disease in any organ of the body is a departure from health. The danger of a disease depends on the severity of the condition, its duration and frequently, the neglect of its early symptoms.

Raynaud's Disease is an unusual condition in which the blood vessels to the hands and feet go into severe spasm and thus cut off the vital blood supply that nourishes the tissues. If the supply of blood and life-giving oxygen that it carries is interrupted, the tips of the fingers, the toes, the ear lobes, the nose and the cheeks turn whitish blue. If the spasm is not controlled, gangrene, or the death of this tissue, may follow.

Raynaud's Disease occurs more frequently in women and has a few known and many more unknown causes. Tobacco undoubtedly is responsible for spasm of the arteries in this and many other types of circulatory disturbances. Severe emotional upsets are considered important though not nearly as important as tobacco. Exposure to coldness and dampness further intensifies the spasm of the arteries leading to "end surfaces" like the tips of the fingers, toes and nose. Some drugs are known to cause spasm in blood vessels. Adrenalin, for example, contracts blood vessels and, in a person with Raynaud's Disease, may be responsible for further reducing the size of the artery and cutting off the blood supply.

There is a remarkable network of tiny nerves that surround blood vessels. This is known as the sympathetic and para-sympathetic nervous system. In severe cases of Raynaud's Disease surgery is often successfully performed on this nerve network.

Opening lead — two of diamonds.

Sam Fry, Jr., (South) was playing with Harry Fishbein in the 1954 summer nationals in Washington, D.C. They were using weak two bids, reserving two clubs as the only forcing bid.

The two diamond response was negative, but Fishbein's leap to three notrump announced a few scattered values. Fry later contracted for a slam in clubs.

Six clubs would ordinarily go down one, but Fry made the slam by executing one of the neatest swindles ever recorded. West has a difficult choice of opening leads and finally selected a diamond. It was at once apparent to Fry that the slam depended on the heart finesse, since he had a spade loser to start with.

The problem was to make the hand even if the heart finesse lost, and declarer sized up his chances perfectly when he played the queen of diamonds from dummy faster than you can say Sam Fry.

East played the king and South the ace. Declarer then led a club to the jack and took a heart finesse, which lost. West, after first stopping to congratulate himself on his sagacity in having chosen a diamond lead, triumphantly led the jack of diamonds — which Fry ruffed.

Declarer drew two more rounds of trumps, cashed his hearts — on which he discarded dummy's spade — and ruffed the queen of spades to produce the twelfth trick.

One must sympathize with West, who could not imagine that Fry would waste the queen of diamonds on the opening lead, holding the singleton ace. West had no way of knowing that East had the ace of spades, and it simply did not occur to him to return any card but the jack of diamonds when he won the heart.

Fry had taken the precaution of leading only one trump before taking the heart finesse, and East had no opportunity to give a nice juicy spade signal.

Crash Puts Six Persons In Hospital

Cars Collide Head-On North Of Watervliet

Six persons were admitted to Twin cities area hospitals following a two-car head-on crash near Watervliet Saturday evening. All those admitted were listed in "fairly good" or "fair" condition this morning.

Berrien county Deputy Sheriff Jack Page said the accident occurred on M-140 north of Watervliet when one of the autos reportedly swerved over the center line, causing the crash.

Admitted to Watervliet Community hospital was Earl J. Peterson, 41, of route 3, Box 662, Coloma, driver of one car, and his son John, 8. Peterson's wife, Audrey, and three other children, Debbie, 13; Judy, 10; and Eric, 6; were treated and released at Mercy hospital.

The driver of the other car, Perry Atcher, 28, of route 1, Pullman, was admitted to Benton Harbor Mercy hospital.

Also admitted were three passengers in his auto, Bryant Howard, 2, of Box 64, Covert, Thelma Howard, 8, and Howard Evans, 52 of M-140 Covert. Evans was transferred to a Grand Rapids hospital Saturday night. Treated and released at Mercy hospital were Margie Howard, 28, of Box 64, Covert, and Keith Howard, 18, of the same address.

Not tickets were issued.

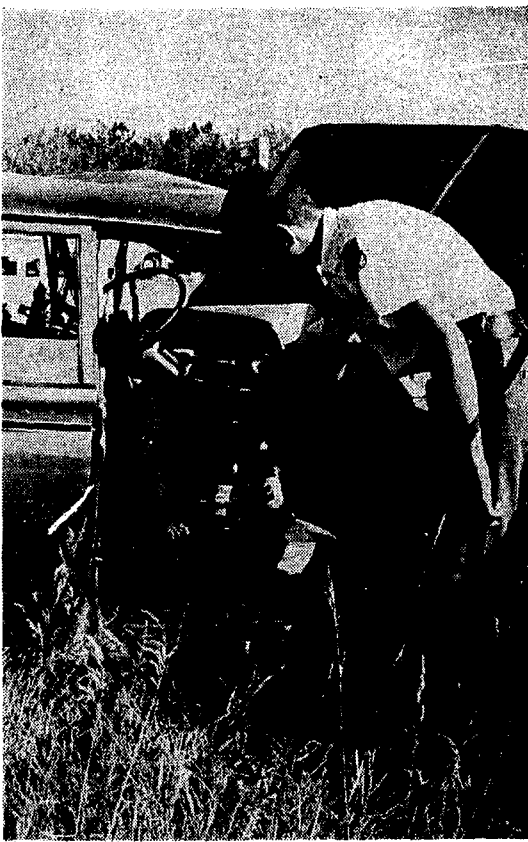

OTHER MISHAPS

In other accidents, Theresa Bosac, 32, of Brook Park, Ohio, was treated and released from Berrien General hospital Saturday afternoon after she was injured in a two-car crash on US-33 and Range Line road, in Berrien township.

Berrien Deputy Sheriff Mike Devine ticketed Albert C. Bosac, 37, for failure to yield the right-of-way after their car collided with an auto driven by Eugene F. Behr, 19, of 1986 Lassen drive, St. Joseph.

Irma Ruth Cressman, 51, of Port Huron, was treated and released from Mercy hospital after a car driven by her husband, John Alton Cressman, 55, collided with a car driven by Lloyd Alfred Zech, 54, of route 1 box 369, Berrien Springs. Deputy Robert L. Gilson ticketed Zech for careless driving. The accident occurred Saturday night on M-139 near I-94 Gilson said.

Injured was Shirley Wilburn, 27, of 545 Niles avenue, Benton Harbor. She was treated and released at Mercy hospital.

Shirley Jerry, 25, of 574 South Fair avenue, Benton Harbor was treated and released at Mercy hospital after the car she was riding in collided with an auto driven by Melvin Pearson, 17, of 127 South Hull avenue. Benton township Patrolman Mike Bowie said Pearson failed to yield the right-of-way to driver Eara D. Rockette, 51, of 475 South Fair avenue, which resulted in the accident at Fair and Highland avenues Saturday.

Herbert B. Phoenix, 35, of East River road, Buchanan, was listed in fair condition at Buchanan Community hospital this morning. He apparently fell asleep at the wheel, and went off East River road, near Range Line road, Niles township, early this morning, Cpl. Charles Tiefenbach said.

BH Men Plead Guilty In Larceny

Two Benton Harbor men, Burford B. Price, 28, and Donald Yerington, 20, both of Blue Ridge road, entered guilty pleas on larceny charges in St. Joseph Municipal court last week.

Price was charged with possession of stolen property less than $100 and Yerington with petty larceny. Municipal Judge Maurice A. Weber sentenced both to pay $30 fine and costs or serve 30 days in jail.

St. Joseph Police Lieut. William Mihalik reported the two admitted taking a hydraulic jack from Auto Specialties Manufacturing Co., Inc. where the two men were formerly employed.

Larry Swearingen, 21, also known as Swearingen and Bearden, of Route 1, Coloma, was bound over to circuit court entering. Bond was set at $1,000. He was arrested June 6 by Benton township police. Appearance in circuit court was set for Aug. 5.

The Federal Land Bank Association of St. Joseph, which had over $10.5 million on loan to farmers in Berrien and Van Buren counties, has merged with the Federal Land Bank Association of Three Rivers, according to an announcement made over the weekend.

The merger, proposed by officials of the Federal Land Bank of St. Paul and approved at a meeting of stockholder-borrowers of the St. Joseph unit on June 24, cancelled plans to build a new headquarters in St. Joseph.

The St. Joseph association was to build a new office headquarters on Ship street, directly east of the St. Joseph post office. Its office building at 722 Port street was purchased by the St. Joseph urban renewal department a short time previous to the merger.

Headquarters of the consolidated association, to be known as the Federal Land Bank Association of Three Rivers, will be in Three Rivers, on US-131. The Three Rivers unit previously has been providing long term credit to farmers in St. Joseph, Cass and Kalamazoo counties.

The new association, which will serve the five counties, has over 1,700 members and has $20.5 million in loans outstanding. The old St. Joseph unit, with over 1,000 members and $10.5 million in loans, was the bigger of the two units.

PART OF TREND
Land Bank officials said the merger proposal was in line with consolidations being made between other of its local associations in a five-state area.

Branch offices will be located at Scottsdale, Paw Paw, Kalamazoo and Cassopolis.

Glenn Welch of Three Rivers has been elected manager of the new association. Paul McGowan, who was manager of the St. Joseph association, will serve as a branch manager at Paw Paw and Kalamazoo.

John Brey will be manager of the Scottsdale branch.

Members of the new board of directors are: Harland Wicks, Dowagiac, president; Leon Phelps, Schoolcraft, vice president; Robert Coomer, Sturgis; Arnold Klug, Berrien Center; Robert Sonnenberg, Watervliet; and James Thar, Decatur.

Klug, Sonnenberg and Thar are members of the old St. Joseph association board. Two other members of the former St. Joseph board, Max Stover of Sodus and Ralph Webster of Lawrence, resigned to permit the other members to fill three seats on the new board.

BH Rumor Center In Operation

Helps To Keep Community Cool Over Weekend

The newly formed Twin Cities rumor control center passed its first weekend of operation "mostly very quietly," according to center committee chairman, the Rev. Edward Goodman.

The center, located at 190 Pipestone in Benton Harbor, went into service at noon on Friday.

The center was established by the Berrien County Council of Churches and other civic organizations in an attempt to help prevent continued civil disorders in the city.

The Rev. Goodman said that the most serious rumor quashed by the center arose Friday night when a caller asked whether a Negro had been shot in front of the Wallace for President headquarters.

Goodman said the center checked the story and learned that a man had been arrested near the headquarters by police, but was not injured.

"One warning shot had been fired into the air, but the police invited our personnel to inspect the man to verify the fact that no injury had been sustained," Goodman said.

Goodman said that a sudden influx of motorcycles in the city also has stirred rumors that violence was impending.

However, he said the center soon learned that the motorcycles were merely here to participate in a weekend benefit

Grand Rapids Cooling Off After Disturbances

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — A few scattered incidents of fire-bombing shattered the overnight calm in Grand Rapids but otherwise, police reported, the racially tense situation was "absolutely under control."

Authorities credited the imposition of a 9 p.m.-to-5:30 a.m. curfew with keeping disturbances to a minimum after violence broke out Friday night, resulting in injury to several persons.

Police reported 28 overnight arrests for curfew violations, including two persons who also were charged with possession of flammable liquids. Nearly 50 more were arrested Saturday night and early Sunday.

GOVERNOR ACTS

The curfew was imposed by Gov. George Romney at 1 a.m. Sunday at the request of Mayor Christian Sonneveldt, after several outbreaks of arson, rock-throwing and harassment of firemen by Negro youths. The governor also placed restrictions on the sale of gasoline, guns and alcohol.

The fire department reported at least 24 fires under investigation since Sunday afternoon, including 14 which broke out after the curfew. The department said it normally has two or three runs during that period. The worst damage estimate was $4,500 to a vacant house and $1,000 to another vacant house, both on the city's South-east Side. A fire also broke out at a lumber yard where two piles of lumber caught fire. Damage was estimated at $500.

Police Supt. William Johnson said the troublemakers appeared to be getting much less support from residents than they did when disorder broke out in the city last summer. He thought this reflected a measure of success in city youth programs.

There were no reports of gangs, crowds of people, rock throwing or shooting.

CALLERS JUMPY

Police said sporadic incidents were reported, but mostly from "jumpy callers," adding that what were thought to be reports or shooting earlier turned out to be "either fire-works or false calls."

After a Saturday night of disorder, Romney declared a state of emergency early Sunday morning as 60 State Police troopers were called into assist 50 Grand Rapids police officers patrolling the city. National Guardsmen were alerted but were not ordered into the area. A 140-man National Guard Company from Grand Rapids was called to duty early Sunday at the local armory in case it was needed.

A National Guard spokesman said the commander of a unit in Greenville was alerted, in case the situation in Grand Rapids would deteriorate. The outbreak of violence began Friday as police reported that eight white motorists were dragged from their cars and beaten by gangs of Negro youths. Several fires were reported the first night, including one blaze at a lumberyard which caused damages estimated at $100,000.

Police said the passenger in the plane was Jan Correll of Kalamazoo. No ages were given for either the pilot or the passenger.

The plane received damage to the nose, landing gear, wings, and propeller. Repairs were estimated at $1,500 to $2,000 by airport personnel.

Attendance Hurt By Weather

Board Will Start
Planning Next Year's Event

By RALPH LUTZ
Staff Writer

HARTFORD — The Van Buren County Youth fair drew to a close Saturday night with fair officials terming it a fine success, despite rain that reduced attendance somewhat from last year.

M.J. Conklin, manager of the fair, said the event this year drew about 19,936 paid patrons, compared to some 23,500 last year. Conklin commented on the rain Tuesday, early Wednesday and early Saturday and noted that paid attendance through Friday was greater than the same period in 1967 — about 15,000 this year, compared to about 13,500 last year.

The difference came the final day, Saturday, when an early rain and wet grounds cut paid attendance to 4,936. Conklin said the final day last year drew 10,000 persons.

Also this year, the fair admitted free about 1,500 children of migrant families and 1,200 persons who held exhibitor's passes. About 150 veterans attended free on Thursday, designated as Veterans' Day.

Conklin termed the fair a success, observing that the event was larger than ever before. There were more animals, about 579, and more children rode the rides, said Conklin.

Conklin said the fair board will meet Tuesday to begin planning the 1969 edition. This year, he said, the Van Buren County Youth fair was held for the tenth year on the existing fairgrounds, which, he noted, constituted a prisoner of war camp during World War II.

The fair began in 1913 and grew steadily until during the war when it was cancelled. The former fair grounds were abandoned in 1953 and for several years the event was held in various communities in the county, before settling at the present site in 1959.

In final events Saturday, the heavyweight pony pulling contest was won by the team of James Plummer of Byron Center. Second place went to Bernard Kronkrite of Plainwell, while third place was won by Dave Jager of Plainwell, whose brother, Ron, also of Plainwell, took fourth.

In the Black and White Holstein show Saturday, Nancy Nesbitt of Lawton exhibited the grand champion cow with reserve honors going to Kenneth Kamp of South Haven.

Miss Nesbitt also showed the senior champion cow, while the reserve award in this division was presented to Brenda Nesbitt of Lawton.

Andrus said the girl somehow found an under water path that led to a sand bar far off the main beach but was unable to retrace her steps and had to try to swim back in water over her head. David Bruce, 27, of Canaan, N.H., today is listed in good condition at St. Anthony's hospital, Michigan City. He was staying at the home of Bert Anderson in Shorewood Hills.

Police said Bruce left bacon frying in the kitchen and returned to find the frying pan aflame, just after midnight Sunday morning. In attempts to put it out, the fire spread, troopers said, and Bruce had to jump through a window to escape.

The Sawyer fire department extinguished the blaze but had to return later Sunday morning and again this morning as insulation in the home flamed up again.
